STATES WITH PASSING GRADE REQUIREMENTS ON NATIONAL BOARDS

Most states simply require a passing grade of 375, or 75%, for licensure, which is the passing grade specified by the NBCE for successful completion of each exam. However, there is a small group of states that have slightly different requirements, so we list them here for your reference. If a state is NOT on the list, it only requires a grade of 375.

Wisconsin – 438 on Part III, 475 on Part IV

For more specific information on any state requirements, please consult the Scopes of Practice filed in the CCDPS. All information listed in from the Federation of Chiropractic Licensing Boards Official Directory.
